

Project Four (Yr 8):

Pollution and Sustainable Living

This project will discuss the different types of pollution. It will talk about pollution in general and then focus on air pollution in China. It then will move to sustainable living, showing how China and other countries help to improve the environment we live in. Particularly a video will be shown to students about what a group of school children in Australia do to protect the environment. The project will end with some hands-on activities to think about what the students can contribute to a better environment.
